

September 2025

Welcome to September at Petra Cares!

As we step into the fall season, I'm thrilled to share that our new automotive class is officially underway! We've welcomed a remarkable group of young men who are eager to learn, grow, and take meaningful steps toward their future careers in the automotive industry.

Each new class brings fresh energy and potential, and this cohort is no exception. Their enthusiasm, curiosity, and commitment to personal and professional development are already shining through.

At Petra Cares, we believe in nurturing not just technical skills, but also confidence, character, and community—and we're excited to walk alongside these students on their journey.

Our instructor, Rodney Schield, shared his excitement about the group, saying:

“This is a promising group of young men. This class is shaping up to be our best one yet.”

Thank you for being part of our mission. Whether you're a supporter, partner, or friend of Petra Cares, your involvement helps make this transformative work possible. We look forward to sharing more updates and success stories with you throughout the season.
